VETERANS IN CAMP

ADJT. T. M. BARRETT TELLS OF
MEETING AT HUNTINGTON BEACH

The twenty-ninth annual encampment of the Southern California Veterans' Association opened Thursday, August 15, with an unusually large attendance. The large auditorium was well filled and a generally good time prevailed among the veterans, who were ready for the ten-day fun and frolic with old friends.

The evening's reception and entertainment was tendered by Huntington Beach W. R. C. An address of welcome by Mayor Helm was responded to by Commander L. Schofield and a splendid program followed these speeches.

The flag raising took place Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, at which time the cannon was fired and Old Glory was unfurled and given to the breeze, thus to remain during the entire encampment with the usual customs of camp. This was followed by a most stirring address by E. C. Seymore, which was full of patriotism, and hope for the future of our loved nation and a strong devotion to Old Glory and the cause for which it stands. Then after a few well chosen, earnest remarks and the reading of a beautiful poem by the association chaplain, C. R. Norton of Glendale, those assembled voiced their allegiance in a rousing three cheers.

The Wednesday evening program was given by the Ladies of the G. A. R. and was highly entertaining.

Thursday morning at 10 the reunion by States was well attended, and some very interesting five-minute speeches made. At the same hour in the headquarters the Ladies' Auxiliary was holding their annual business meeting.

At 2 p.m., camp fire; at 4:30 p.m., drums were sounded for dress parade, calling forth every veteran in camp and it is reported that there was the largest number present at the first day's parade in the history of the association and many of the boys showed they still have a lot of the spirit of '61, though their step is a little less steady. At 7:30 Stanton, W. R. C., provided a splendid program of fine quality and splendid variety, so that all tastes were well taken care of, showing marked forethought and ability in arrangement.

Friday at 2 p.m. an entertainment for ex-prisoners of war and army nurses, short addresses, music and reminiscences were in order.

At 7:30 the United Spanish War Veterans provided a most entertaining program of unusual quality.

FAREWELL TO PASTOR

A large number of the members of the Central Christian Church of Glendale with their friends assembled at the church, Louise street and Colorado boulevard, Friday evening, to give a formal farewell to Rev. E. E. Francis, who is retiring from the pastorate of this church. The meeting was held in the auditorium of the church which, while there was no effort at display, was decorated with beautiful bouquets of cut flowers.

Miss Bertha Laycock, missionary to Porto Rico, was present and told very interestingly of her work among the people there and of the conditions both before and after the advent of the missionaries on that island. Mrs. Cole sang a beautiful solo and Miss Bertha Jackson gave a reading in her own happy manner. A pleasing feature of the program was a song by the newly organized triangle mission club, which is made up of the younger people of the church.

Mr. O. L. Kilborn presented to the retiring pastor with appropriate sentiments letters from many of the members of the church, expressing their appreciation and commendation and bearing words of encouragement to him. These will, no doubt, be treasured by Rev. Francis throughout his lifetime, and he responded very feelingly. After singing "Blest be the Tie That Binds" all mingled socially and there was more music. Rev. Francis will probably fill the pulpit of the Glendale Christian Church for the last time next Sunday, although that is not definitely decided.

GOT HIS TOE CRUSHED

Elmer C. Hoffman, son of G. B. Hoffman, City Treasurer, 1562 West Second street, while working this morning in the Los Angeles River bed, where the city is developing water by sinking wells, got one of his big toes badly crushed in the machinery connected with the drill. Elmer was taken to Los Angeles where he was treated by Dr. Taylor, who hopes that there will be no need for amputation of the toe.

PLANS FOR CHURCH

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH WILL HAVE BUILDING TO SEAT
1400 PERSONS

Work on the excavation of the lot recently purchased for the erection of a church building by the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Glendale is almost completed. The work of building will be begun the moment the bids have been made by the contractors and contracts awarded. Bids will be taken both on general and subcontracts.

Arthur G. Lindley, 310 Hollingsworth building, is the architect who has been employed to make the plans. The building will be erected on the lot at the corner of Kenwood and Third street. The cost will be about $35,000. The building will be a fine ecclesiastical structure, of the most modern kind. All the features of an up-to-date institutional church will be embodied in the new structure.

The building itself will occupy a space 90x140 feet. It will contain a main auditorium that will seat 1400 people. An ample Sunday-school room will house that important section of the church, and will have various class-rooms for the accommodation of the different grades. One of the features of the building will be a pastor's study. Several parlors will be available for different affairs of a social character and for the meetings of societies. Twenty class-rooms will be a most valuable adjunct to the work of the church and will greatly facilitate the growth of this increasing body.

Some of the modern features are interesting. There is a large banquet room, which will be big enough to accommodate those general and public gatherings wherein the whole church is invited to participate and to which outsiders are invited. The kitchen will be such as to delight the ladies of the congregation, who will find there every convenience for the preparation of the many suppers common throughout the season.

According to the architect's plans the building will be of brick with concrete foundation, cement basement, ruffled brick facing, art glass windows, artificial stone trim, tile floors, plumbing, wiring and heating.

DEATH OF PROF. TAYLOR

Prof. George Frederick Taylor, a member of the faculty of the Glendale Union High School for the past six years, passed away at his home, 883 South Louise street, at 6 o'clock Saturday morning, August 19, 1916. Mr. Taylor was born in Indiana, June 9, 1870, so was a little more than 46 years of age at the time of his death. He had been in poor health for some months but was able to finish the last school terms. During the summer he has been under the doctor's care and about a week ago he suffered from a stroke of paralysis from which he never rallied.

Prof. Taylor has been engaged in educational work for many years. Seven years ago he came to California from his native State and for the past six years he has been professor of chemistry and general science in the Glendale Union High School. Two years ago this summer Mr. Taylor was married, his wife being a native of Iowa. They established their home in this city and have continued to reside here.

Prof. Taylor was very highly esteemed as a man and as a teacher. He was dearly loved by his pupils for the thoroughness which he required in all classes under his charge. The principals and the members of the Board of Education felt that in Mr. Taylor they had on the faculty a man true to the very highest ideals to which a teacher may aspire. All feel that his place will be very difficult to fill.

Mr. Taylor's sister is expected here from Indiana tomorrow evening. The funeral will be held Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. at 883 South Louise street. Interment at Forest Lawn. The Pullman Undertaking Company is in charge.

DISPUTE COST $5

On account of a dispute that arose over some motorcycle work R. Lease, who works in the Cleveland Motorcycle agency on Brand boulevard, was brought before Judge Whomes, who fined him $5. It appeared from the evidence that M. L. Lehman went into the Cleveland agency to get some work done and that while there some difference of opinion that arose between him and Lease led to blows. On the complaint of Lehman Lease was brought before Judge Whomes who settled the case by the above-mentioned fine.

TEUTONS SINK ITALIAN STEAMER STANTARIA

VESSEL RECENTLY ENGAGED IN TRANSPORTATION OF TROOPS TORPEDOED BY AUSTRIAN SUBMARINE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—The Italian steamer Stantaria, which has been engaged as a troopship, conveying troops from Italy to the northeast shore of the Adriatic, was sunk today at the entrance to the Adriatic sea. A submarine professing to be Austrian, although the reports differ on that point, ordered the vessel to stop by firing a shot across her bows and immediately without further warning fired a torpedo into her amidships, sinking her immediately.

PROSPECT OF SETTLING STRIKE BRIGHTER

PRESIDENT WILSON RECOMMENDS THE ACCEPTANCE OF THE EIGHT-HOUR DAY AND ARBITRATION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 19.—President Wilson stated today that he was doing everything in his power to obtain a settlement of the Railway difficulties. He recommended the acceptance of the eight-hour day and the arbitration of all other points. It is believed that the threatened strike will be averted. There is a vast amount of munitions for the Allies to be moved and that is having its effect on the situation. The public will ultimately have to pay the increased demands of the workers.

BRITISH NOW HAVE GIANT 16-INCH GUNS

GEN HAIG'S ARTILLERY OUTRANGES THE FAMOUS GERMAN 42-CENTIMETER GUNS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Aug. 19.—Gen. Haig's artillery is now equipped with giant 16-inch guns which completely outrange the famous 42-centimeter guns of the Germans. These new guns were a complete surprise to the Germans and are playing a very prominent part in the smashing of the German entrenchments. The results of the two years' unceasing training to which Kitchener subjected his new army are now being seen. The artillery of the British in precision and effect is fully equal to the admirable French artillery, which is acknowledged to have no superior.

GERMAN COUNTERATTACKS FAIL IN PICARDY

FRENCH MAKE CONSIDERABLE GAINS IN THE VILLAGE OF MAUREPAS AND IN DIRECTION OF CLERY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, Aug. 19.—The Germans began last night a series of violent counter attacks on the positions gained by the French in the village of Maurepas yesterday. Wave after wave of their first line regiments were sent forward, but although some of them reached the French positions, that was as far as they got. Two hundred unwounded prisoners were taken. The French now hold the greater part of Maurepas and a portion of Calvary Hill. Other unwounded Germans were captured in the Thiaumont direction where the French made notable progress.

SUMMONS MORE RAILROAD PRESIDENTS

PRESIDENT OF UNITED STATES ASKS HEADS OF WESTERN ROADS TO CONFERENCE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 19.—President Wilson, who has been working hard to settle the threatened railroad strike, today summoned to Washington an additional number of western railroad presidents and officials to join the conference over the disputed questions. Already thirty-one presidents and other officials of railroads have been in conference with the president. Wilson's plan for settling the strike by the adoption of an eight-hour day, prorata pay for overtime, and a Federal commission to investigate other issues, is acceptable to the men.

RUSSIANS BREAK THROUGH GERMAN LINE

GEN. BRUSILOFF'S MEN SMASH DEFENSE OF COMBINED
GERMAN-AUSTRIAN-TURKISH LINE NEAR KOVEL

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PETROGRAD, Aug. 19.—Heavy fighting is in progress around the Kovel front. The Germans, in a desperate endeavor to save Lemberg, if possible, have brought up large bodies of fresh German troops and Turkish troops. Gen. Brussiloff's men smashed through this force at different points, capturing the town of Tobrzy.

BRITISH MAKE BIG GAIN IN TERRIFIC DRIVE

LONDON, Aug. 19.—The British hurled back the German line, in the region north of the Somme, last night. The attack was made along a six-mile line of front and the Allies made the greatest gain they have achieved since the first Somme drive began. The Germans resisted with the greatest determination but ultimately gave way and suffered great losses.

APPLICATION DENIED

POSTOFFICE ULTIMATUM TO GLENDALE, ALHAMBRA AND SOUTH PASADENA

Upon assuming his duties as Congressman from the Ninth district Congressman Charles H. Randall was asked by the editor of The Evening News and the editors of the South Pasadena and Alhambra daily papers to make application to the United States government postoffice authorities to grant permission that daily newspapers mailed through the Glendale, Alhambra and South Pasadena postoffices, all of which are merely post-stations of the Los Angeles postoffice, may be subject only to second-class postage rates when delivered through any post-station within the Los Angeles postoffice territory. Following is the reply Congressman Randall received from the department in charge:

Washington, Aug. 12, 1916.
HON. CHARLES H. RANDALL,
House of Representatives,
Washington, D. C.

My dear Mr. Randall—

Referring to your call of yesterday and to your letter regarding the postage rates applicable to daily newspapers published in Glendale, South Pasadena and Alhambra, stations of the Los Angeles postoffice, I have to say that, under the law, copies of newspapers other than weeklies mailed by the publishers for local delivery by city letter carriers are subject to postage at the rate of one cent each. Before the consolidation of the Glendale, South Pasadena and Alhambra postoffices with the Los Angeles office, copies of a daily paper published in any one of those places and addressed for delivery by the city letter carriers of any of the other offices were chargeable with postage at the cent-a-pound rate, as you will see from the following provision of paragraph 5, section 452, Postal Laws and Regulations:

"Publications of the second-class mailed by the publishers thereof or news agents at a city letter carrier office for distribution through the boxes or general delivery thereof, or addressed to a city letter carrier office other than that of publication, or for delivery on rural or star routes emanating from city letter carrier offices, are subject to postage at the rate of one cent a pound."

After Glendale, South Pasadena and Alhambra were made stations of the Los Angeles postoffice, copies of a daily paper published and mailed at any one of those stations addressed for delivery by the city letter carriers of the Los Angeles postoffice could no longer be regarded as "addressed to a city letter carrier office" (Continued on Page 4)

BOY LOST IN GLENDALE

Charles Lae of Los Angeles, a little boy 3 years old, who had accompanied his parents to Tropico to visit friends there, wandered away from the house. Each parent thought the child was with the other. Charles boldly took his way up Brand boulevard and wandered north until he reached the vicinity of North Louise, where he was finally discovered perfectly happy and none the worse for his adventure, which lasted from morning until 3 p.m.

EVENING NEWS THREE YEARS OLD

The Glendale Evenings News will be three years old on Wednesday of next week. That means that about 939 issues of The News have been published since it was established. For several years before the Daily News was established it was remarked among the people of Glendale that a daily paper was greatly needed for the purpose of promoting the interests of the city. The venture has proven a very successful one although it has required diligent application on the part of the management. It is appropriate at this time for us to extend thanks to the people of the community who have given such liberal support to the paper.

There is a great expense connected with the publishing of a daily paper over that of a weekly paper and it has been a source of pleasure to the management of The Evenings News to have the people of Glendale recognize that fact and whenever possible they have placed additional advertising and job printing patronage with The News, and further than this they have spoken a good word for the daily paper of their city. The Evening News stands out squarely for all Glendale institutions and is ready to reciprocate for all the kind treatment received. More extended mention will be made in a later number of The Evening News of the work accomplished by this paper for the city of Glendale in the past three years.

HILL AND DESERT

POLICE CHIEF HERALD TELLS OF ARID LANDS OUT FROM SAN BERNARDINO

Chief of Police George H. Herald, who returned this week from a trip to the Big Bear Valley, says that the country up to San Bernardino was fresh and verdant. The citrus ranches looked healthy and crops of every kind seemed in fine shape. "In short," said Chief Herald, "the whole country through which we motored up to San Bernardino seemed prosperous."

"From San Bernardino up to the mountains there was a different tale to tell. One gets into real desert country there and between the sand and the steep climb it is a pretty strenuous road. The Ford machine climbed bravely and with the assistance of a little water now and then from the troughs by the wayside it was not very much of a trick to reach the higher altitudes."

Big Bear Valley is rapidly becoming known. In fact it is so much known now that one is apt to meet many acquaintances up there. By and by when there is a better road the place will become more frequented and it will be necessary to hunt out other retreats. Just at present the lake is as pleasant a retreat as one could wish. The solitude vast and ample that reigns around the lake is assurance that one will not be much disturbed. Of course one can go to the Pine Knot Hotel or to Knight's camp or some other resort on the lake; but if it is desired to have real peace and enjoyment it is best to do as we did—take a 10x12 tent along, a few cooking utensils and some provisions and trust to the lake for trout and the lake shores for what extra provisions are needed.

"The trout in Big Bear Lake are rainbow trout, large and gamy. We caught the limit—ten pounds and one fish, on five different days. The biggest fish I caught was 5 1/4 pounds. The weather was quite cool but bracing and one night we had frost. Among the big pines it was fragrant and healthful and everyone seemed to benefit by the change. I saw Mr. Middleworth and his family enjoying the lake breezes. There, too, I saw Mr. Walker, also of the Glendale Ford agency. There were others, I suppose, but I did not run across them."

"Leaving the Big Bear Lake we took the road that passes through Cushmanberry Canyon. It was interesting to see Baldwin Lake, which seems to lie in an old volcanic region. The water of this lake is sulphurous in taste and has hot springs bubbling up. It is attractive to those who love the more wild native scenery. Leaving the lake we motored down the canyon, which is steep and rocky and leads at last to the genuine desert with its giant cactus, standing weird and grim against the burning waste. This is the region of true desolation. Here and there a jack-rabbit runs off at full speed and then turns and looks at one as if amazed that any human being should venture into its desert dominion."

"Through this desert we took our way and were greeted with the interesting sight of a genuine mirage, where cattle meandered by the grassy sides of lovely rippling lakes, with water as blue as the sky. 'That,' say the Indians, with somewhat more poetry than the average white man, 'is the ghost of the old lake that used to be there; those are the spirits of the cattle that once fed by its margin.'"

"Our way led on to Victorville, a small desert town, and through Cajon Pass to San Bernardino. Cajon Pass is well named. The word in Spanish means 'box' and it is just like one and as hot as a box with the lid on."

MISS CROSS GOES TO SANTA BARBARA

Miss M. A. Cross, who for eight years has been employed in the Public Service department of the city of Glendale, terminates her connection with the city today and on the 31st of this month will go to Santa Barbara where she has accepted a position with the Santa Barbara Abstract & Guaranty Company. Miss Cross' long service in the Public Service department is sufficient proof that she has been an able and trustworthy official.

BOYS' CAMP

The boys' brigade, a company of Presbyterian boys, under the regular scout age, will leave next Monday morning at an early hour for a week's camp at Paeonia Canyon, five miles east of San Fernando. Milton Newton and Rev. W. E. Edmonds have the company in charge.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, AUGUST 19, 1916

RUSSIA AND JAPAN NOW ALLIES

War, like misfortune, makes nations, like individuals, acquainted with strange bedfellows. Back in 1905 Russia and Japan were cutting each other's throats. In 1916 they are bosom friends. Truly the changes of international relations are wonderful. No one need be astonished to see Britain and Germany some day friends once more. To have prophesied that Russia and Japan would become friends would have seemed folly in 1905, but assumes a sweet reasonableness in 1916. The Japanese are not Christians and have never adopted a doctrine or gospel of hate. The Russians are half Asiatics anyway and have an easy conscience in all matters that can advance the cause of "Holy Russia."

It is true that the Japanese and the Russian alike protest that this agreement is not to be considered an alliance but rather a convention. There is much in a name when it is used in diplomacy. It is not easy to understand the real nature of the compact. It is not believed by those who are conversant with oriental policies that this is an attempt to close the door of China against American trade or enterprise. Japan, on the contrary, is willing to enter the lists of commerce against the United States, and to take her chance in those fields where she thinks her manufacturers and merchants are able to hold their own; elsewhere there will be restriction of foreign competition.

From all that is said it would seem rather too much to call the new agreement between Japan and Russia an alliance. It provides no mutual obligations on the part of the two nations as far as armed assistance is concerned. The treaty with Britain provided thatunprovoked attack on the part of any other power or powers shall bring either party to the aid of the other. That war shall be made in common and peace settled by mutual agreement.

In this treaty or convention with Russia as it may be called it is merely provided that the two nations—Japan and Russia—shall make united efforts to maintain peace in the Far East and that Japan will not become a party to any political combination directed against Russia, while Russia shall equally not become a party to any combination against Japan. That Japan and Russia shall act in combination when their territorial rights or interests in the Far East are threatened.

Mutual support and co-operation, of course, may cover a very large field and is loose enough to include almost anything from mere moral support to the sending of the whole fleet and army of either country into the field.

It is evident that there is a purpose in the loose wording of this "convention." Here diplomacy has evidently made use of language to conceal its thought and the nations of the West may well read between the lines of this treaty with some natural anxiety. The United States in particular has every reason to scan the provisions of this agreement with some alarm. The United States pledged itself to the open door principle in China and is likely to find it closed in its face one of these days.

There is no doubt that the war in Europe has given Japan an opportunity such as it had little reason to expect. Japan has managed to gain a balance of $300,000,000 out of the present war and is carefully laying up this gold reserve against the possibilities of the future. Three hundred millions in Japan is equivalent to five times that sum in the United States and is quite a windfall to a country that was in sad straits for money just after the Russo-Japanese war. No wonder the Japanese have "waxed fat" like Jeshurun. The time for "kicking" will be disclosed ere long. Doubt it not.

COMMERCIALIZING THE GIANT REDWOODS

There is great danger that the giant redwoods in Sequoia National park may be inclosed within small fences and visitors charged admission to see them. It was to preserve these trees from destruction that congress created the national park in 1890; and yet with the one exception of the General Sherman tree, the greatest trees and all the finest groups of greater trees in the Giant Forest, the grove of largest trees, are not the property of the nation but of individuals. The park was created out of public lands without provision for acquiring the private holdings that happened to lie within its boundaries.

What the park's creation, therefore, has done for most of the oldest and largest sequoias is merely to make it unprofitable to cut and market them. The people who own the holdings in the park have a right to do what they choose in the way of fencing in their holdings. If big trees fall inside these fences then the owners are not likely to forego profit when with the park's increasing popularity these holdings acquire earning ability. Once visitors begin to throng the park no law can prevent the fencing of these big tree clumps for the charging of admissions; nor can the public welfare control the kind and appearance of the hostleries which some day surely will be built beneath some of our greatest sequoias, nor even stop the raising of spiral stairways round their great trunks to lookouts and lunch platforms among their branches.

There is a movement on foot to save these big trees from this exploitation. The Sundry Civil Act of 1915 authorizes the Secretary of the Interior "to accept patented land or other right of way whether over patented or other land in the Sequoia National park that may be donated for park purposes." This is a means by which the big trees may be nationalized and kept as a part of the people's inheritance to future generations.

In truth it seems as if the nation would rouse itself on this point and do something to preserve the greatest natural asset in the way of forest growth in the world. With the exception of a few stunted specimens in Japan there is nothing in the world to equal these giant redwoods. It is wonderful to think that these magnificent trees were standing erect and presentable at the time of the Norman Conquest—1066 A. D. To remember that one thousand years before the birth of Christ they were quite sizeable youngsters, some of them several hundreds of years old, is to realize what a national asset the United States has in the redwood forests.

It is now proposed to include in one gigantic park the whole sequoia region. This would take in all of the scenic country lying beyond its boundaries to the north and east. There is a common note of continuity in this region. All the sections of this wonderful country are one and indivisible. There is a bill now before Congress to enlarge the park boundaries so that they shall inclose it all.

When this bill shall have been passed it is hoped that provision may have been made to purchase the land whereon the big trees stand from those who have holdings there. These trees should never be left to individual exploitation. They belong to the nation by natural right. Of course individual rights acquired in good faith should be and will be respected.

LUTHERAN DINNER A SUCCESS

The ladies of the First Lutheran Church are rejoicing over the success which attended their dinner given on Thursday and Friday of this week, in the Anderson Cafe, 704 West Broadway. The dinner was advertised in The Glendale Evening News and the ladies attribute a large part of their success to the fact that it was thus brought to the notice of the public. The church will profit by a handsome sum from the proceeds of this dinner. The guests were loud in their praise of the excellent cooking and the next dinner is certain to be largely patronized.

Mrs. Susie Peck, president of the N. P. Banks Relief Corps; Mrs. Ada Atkinson and Mrs. Burlingham, members of the corps, who are attending the Southern California Veterans' encampment at Huntington Beach, will remain there until the close of the encampment Friday, August 25.

If people were as suspicious of water as they are of eggs, there would be more deaths from old age and fewer from typhoid.—Exchange.

By way of a farewell entertainment to Mrs. W. E. The house was beautifully decorated with a profusion of flowers and greenery. Yellow and green were the prevailing colors throughout the rooms and on the dining table. The favors were yellow and green, the little almond baskets were of the same colors. The place cards were hand-painted in yellow and green. Cards and games helped to pass a pleasant afternoon. One feature of the entertainment was unique. Each lady in the party was asked to write a letter to Mrs. Evans and to seal and number it. Mr. Jamieson, who has traveled extensively, says that Glendale is one of the cleanest, neatest appearing cities he has ever visited. The site for Mr. Jamieson's home consists of 3 1/2 acres on Bonita avenue, just off Mountain View avenue, near the L. C. Brand estate. The residence is being built by Moore and Brandt of Pasadena, but all the building materials so far as possible have been and will be purchased in Glendale.

GLENDAL E W.C.T.U.

The regular meeting of the Glendale W.C.T.U. was held Thursday at the home of Mrs. George Lemon, 119 East Broadway. There was a large attendance. The usual routine of business was disposed of and the society then devoted itself to the discussion of the merits of the different candidates to be voted on at the primary, August 29. Plans for the coming campaign were also formulated and discussed. It was brought to the attention of the meeting that many people were laboring under the idea that they could not vote at the November election because they had not registered before the primaries. This, it was said, was a mistake, as it is possible to register now and vote in November, though not at the primaries.

Mr. Preston informed us that it is the home of many artists, some of them from Chicago and some from Los Angeles.

A Dairy That Needs No Sanitary Legislation

Long before laws and ordinances were passed in regard to sanitary conditions of dairies and the handling of milk, MacMullin's had a sanitary dairy in every sense of the word, and all sanitary requirements were courted.

MacMullin's dairy not only complies with all laws and ordinances, but meets more sanitary conditions than are required, and has justly won the reputation of being "the Most Sanitary Dairy in the San Fernando Valley."

APPLICATION DENIED

other than that of publication," but the rates provided by the following provision of the Act of March 3, 1879, embodied in section 433, Postal Laws and Regulations, for copies of publications "deposited in a city letter carrier office for delivery by its carriers" then became applicable:

"The rate on newspapers, excepting weeklies and periodicals, not exceeding two ounces in weight, when the same are deposited in a letter carrier office for delivery by its carriers, shall be uniform at one cent each; periodicals weighing more than two ounces shall be subject, when delivered by such carriers, to a postage of two cents each, and these rates shall be prepaid by stamps affixed."

Under existing law no change can be made in the rate on such copies so long as Glendale, South Pasadena and Alhambra remain stations of the Los Angeles postoffice.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) A. M. DOCKERY,
Third Assistant Postmaster General.

The above communication from Mr. Dockery has the ring of being final. It seems there is no way of getting away from this unreasonable ruling that was put in force by the Act of March 3, 1879. The conditions are just this: A man residing in Glendale who has paid a year's subscription in advance for The Evening News decides in six months' time to move to Los Angeles, Eagle Rock, Hollywood, South Pasadena, Alhambra or any other point within the Los Angeles postoffice territory and he asks The News management to forward his paper to the new address. It is impossible to do this without affixing a one-cent stamp on each copy of the paper mailed to him. The man who resides in Long Beach, Monrovia, Whittier or any city in which there is an independent postoffice may move to Los Angeles or any of the other places mentioned within the Los Angeles postoffice territory and have his daily paper forwarded to him without the publisher affixing the one-cent stamp on each copy mailed.

Why should not the Glendale publisher and the Glendale subscriber have the same advantages as the publisher and subscriber residing in Long Beach, Monrovia or Whittier? This embarrassment all comes about on account of Glendale being merely a station of the Los Angeles postoffice, and there is a sufficient number of patrons of the Glendale postoffice who favor an independent postoffice to have this change brought about.

Congressman Bell was unable to do anything for the people of Glendale, South Pasadena and Alhambra in this respect and now it seems that Congressman Randall is failing to make good in securing what the majority of the people want in these cities. There is no reason why independent postoffices should not be established in these three cities, providing people want them. Now what is needed is to have a Congressman who has the ability to bring sufficient pressure to bear upon the heads of the postoffice department to have these changes made as the people desire.

The government is an institution by the people, there is nothing mysterious about the postoffice department more than may be understood and regulated by the people and when a Congressman has sufficient political influence to get in touch with the proper department in a manner that this department will know who speaks and for whom he is speaking there will be something done. If Congressman Randall has this power it is time he was exhibiting it. Congressman Bell did not have the influence. If either Candidate Hahn or Lostutter is the man for the place, it is time the people are finding that out. What we want is somebody to represent us in Washington who will be able to have our servants of the postoffice department sit up and take notice.

ILLINOIS SOCIETY PICNIC

There are a large number of Illinois people in Glendale, in common with the others from the same State who are to be found all over Southern California. They are invited to attend the fall picnic reunion, under the auspices of the Illinois State Society of Los Angeles. This gathering will be held in Eastlake Park, Los Angeles, all day Saturday, September 2. Coffee will be furnished free to all who buy the badge. There will be county headquarters and registers so that it will be easy to find old friends. There will be some speaking, but the day will be given over chiefly to social fun. Other information may be obtained from C. H. Parsons, secretary of the Federation of State Society, Main 5635; Home 10459; Los Angeles.

McNUTT WELL RECEIVED

Mr. McNutt, whose photograph appears in another column, informs us that his candidacy for the Assembly is progressing finely, and that he is being very well received in all parts of the district where he has been. He says the people regard him well on account of his fine qualifications and fitness for the place, and also because of the fact that he is explaining to them the need of more attention to our Legislature and the manner of laws which they are making for us. He thinks that that is the place to begin to cut down our taxes and save governmental expense, both State and County. He is making a vigorous campaign all over the district and is assured of a very heavy vote all over the district.
